

DAVE SHAFER'S
*J*OURNEY TO TIBENHAM

I spent the better part of the morning at the 2nd Air Division Library doing a bit of research and getting proper driving directions to find the Tibenham Air Field.

Plus directions of a few other air fields of interest.

While not much is left standing of the original base and its wartime buildings, it was a big thrill to be on the grounds and feel the wind as it blew across the remaining runways.

When I return on Saturday with the Veterans, I'm sure all my questions will be better answered.

How the field is configured today

The Memorial

Part of an original taxi way

DAVE SHAFER'S
*J*OURNEY TO *P*IBENHAM

The total effort of driving on the left side of the road and shifting with your left hand, All the while trying to find very small hidden roads in this part of England was the day's challenge and victory. No wrecks, no stalls, and I found my way back in the dark!

A repainted Quonset hut

Windsock

Original Control tower at Seething AirField.
448th Bomb Grop

DAVE SHAFER'S
*J*OURNEY TO *P*IBENHAM

A windmill on the Broads

Church of St. Joseph near Rackheath

